RESOLUTION

Condemning the rape and assault of women by Russian forces in the occupied area of Bucha, Ukraine, and calling on Vladimir Putin and the Russian Federation to remove all Russian forces from Ukraine, and to cease all hostilities, protect human rights, and allow the free flow of aid.

Whereas the ongoing war in Ukraine that started in 2014 with Russia's illegal annexation of Crimea is impacting Ukrainians' safety, health, and human rights, particularly those of women;

Whereas, on March 21, 2022, the United Nations Special Representative of the Secretary-General on Sexual Violence in Conflict called upon all parties to the war in Ukraine to ensure the protection of all civilians, especially women and girls who are at heightened risk for sexual violence;

Whereas, on April 4, 2022, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights said that "it is vital that all efforts are made to ensure there are independent and effective investigations into what happened in Bucha to ensure truth, justice and accountability, as well as reparations and remedy for victims and their families";

Whereas Human Rights Watch has documented several cases of Russian forces committing violations of the laws of war against civilians in occupied areas of the Chernihiv, Kharkiv, and Kyiv regions of Ukraine;

Whereas, on April 5, 2022, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy told the United Nations Security Council that "Russia's men had tortured civilians and raped women in front of their children";

Whereas, on April 3, 2022, the Department of State strongly condemned the atrocities by the Russian forces in Bucha and across Ukraine;

Whereas, due to Putin's deliberate disruption of the free flow of humanitarian aid, many displaced civilians are sheltering in unfinished or damaged buildings, thus increasing risks of gender-based violence and the spread of infectious diseases; and

Whereas, on April 1, 2022, Amnesty International reported that violence against women knows few bounds and that “violence against women is a violation of human rights that cannot be justified by any political, religious, or cultural claim”: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

2 (1) condemns the rape and assault of women by
3 Russian forces in the occupied area of Bucha,
4 Ukraine;

5 (2) urges the prosecution, by the appropriate
6 authorities, of those responsible for ordering or carrying
7 out the violence in Ukraine;

8 (3) condemns the deliberate disruption of the 9 free flow of humanitarian aid that is harming innocent
10 civilians, particularly women;

11 (4) reaffirms the importance of diplomatic pressure
12 on all parties to the conflict to fulfill their obligations
13 under international human rights and humanitarian law, and 14 allow unencumbered access for humanitarian responders to 15 provide aid to people impacted by the violence;

16 (5) highlights the critical importance of ensuring 17 women meaningfully participate in—

18 (A) the planning and execution of humanitarian 19 actions; and
20 tarian actions; and

1 (B) the negotiation of peace agreements to
2 meet their unique needs and to protect their
3 human rights; and

4 (6) calls on Vladimir Putin to—

5 (A) condemn sexual and gender-based vio-
6 lence against women and girls in this conflict;

7 (B) hold all perpetrators who commit acts
8 of sexual and gender-based violence account-
9 able;

10 (C) cease all hostilities, protect human
11 rights, and allow unencumbered humanitarian 12 access; and

13 (D) remove all Russian Armed Forces, and 14 other armed groups, from Ukraine.
